In support of the Campaign in defense of asylum seekers' rights in Holland

Join us on 27 April, a day of action against the Dutch government's asylum policy

Organization for Women's Liberation condemns the harsh policies of the Dutch government towards asylum seekers. Refugees and asylum seekers flee their home countries because they are persecuted for their beliefs and opposition to dictatorship, misery, poverty, violation of human rights and for a better, free and equal world. They do not wake up one day and decide that they should leave their loved ones and seek refuge in another country! Once in Europe, they are still put under a lot of pressure, injustice and humiliation by the European governments and their right wing policies.

Asylum seekers in Holland should be supported and granted refugee status. They are human beings and they are here and should enjoy all the rights and opportunities of every other citizen in Holland.

We support the campaign organized by "Bureau in Defense of Refugee Rights" and will take part in their day of action in Holland on 27 April 2011. We urge all to join this campaign. Together we are stronger and can make a difference.
