No to Capitalism!

A Better World is Possible!

The capitalist system is in deep crisis. It not only shows no signs of recovery, it is also spreading in all countries. It reflects this reality that the capitalist system is incapable of meeting the most basic needs of the majority. The wave of revolutionary uprisings in the Middle East and North African countries and the protests against poverty, unemployment, corruption and dictatorship are all the reactions to the devastating effects of economic crisis of the capitalist system and the reaction of the working class and the toilers in these countries. The record of this system is full of slavery, labour exploitation, political suppression, poverty, unemployment, war, mass murder, terrorism, militarism and a fierce opposition to ideals and efforts of humanity for liberation.

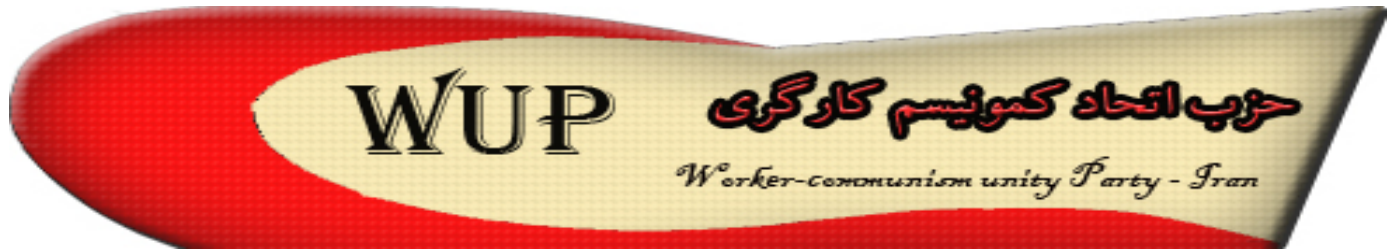

Bourgeoisie's solution to this crisis in all countries is economic austerity plans, unemployment, harder exploitation of the employed, reduction or even freezing of wages, and imposition of even more poverty. They are breaking the cost of the crisis on the working class who have declared that they will not pay for it! Millions of people took to the streets in France, Greece, USA, Portugal and England to protest against the cuts and the hardships imposed on them. Workers in the Middle East and North Africa too have common demands. They are sick and tired of poverty, violation of their rights and dictatorship of capital. In Iran, the Islamic Republic is in deep crisis for political survival. It won't be long before workers in Iran come face to face in a clash with the Islamic government.

1st of May, once again, reminds us of the bankruptcy of the capitalist system and the struggle of the international working class against wage slavery. Workers must propose their own class solution against that of the bourgeoisie. On this day, we declare: Capitalist system and its governments must go! We, the working class are making everything in the world, so we can run it perfectly well too! We can create a society where everyone enjoys all the social products which are the result of our collective work and contributes to this social wealth according to his/her ability. A society devoid of exploitation, classes and class differences, discrimination and inequality. A free communist society!

Once again, on first of May, we declare our commitment to the international solidarity with the rising mass protests in all corners of the world for a unified class interest. The struggle of the working class against poverty, despotism and for freedom, equality and prosperity must be defended. The voice of the working class in France, Korea, Turkey and elsewhere must be intertwined with the song of The International which conveys true human values. First of May is the tradition of the international communist working class. In the absence of workers' protests and a communist critique of the capitalist system, capital will continue to perpetuate barbarism.
